

16 Days of Activism

From 25 November, the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women, to 10 December, Human Rights Day, the 16 Days of Activism against Gender-Based Violence Campaign is a time to galvanize action to end violence against women and girls around the world. The international campaign originated from the first Women's Global Leadership Institute coordinated by the Center for Women's Global Leadership in 1991.

This year, Zonta International is again focusing on the Zonta Says no to Violence Against Women campaign, reflecting the core principle of Goal 5 of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

The Zonta Says No campaign reinforces Zonta's commitment to a world free from violence of every kind for all women and girls around the world. During the 16 Days of Activism, the color orange will be a key theme unifying activities of not only Zonta, but everyone bringing global attention to the issue of violence against women and girls. "Violence against women is not just a women's issue. It is a worldwide pandemic that crosses every social and economic class, every religion, race and ethnicity."
